SURABAYA : THE CITY OF HEROES

Surabaya is located in the North coastal area of East Java Province. It borders directly with Madura straits in the North and East. Since the Majapahit Era, this capital of the East Java has become the center of trade. Up to now, Surabaya has been known as a prominent business and trade center in Java and become the second largest metropolis in Indonesia after Jakarta. Visiting the city, you will encounter crowded landscape, hurly-burly view of a megacity, similar to what you find in Jakarta. Skyscrapers, shopping centers, and banks loom neatly as if showing the exuberance of the city life. Surabaya is multi-ethnic, rich in culture. Different kind of ethnicities can be found here, among others : Madura, Sunda, Batak, Kalimantan, Bali and Sulawesi which blend with the native of Surabaya. Besides that there are also Chinese, Indians, Arabs and Europeans. Pluralism, the word has become identical for Surabaya. The typical characteristic of native Surabaya is outgoing. The speech style is open. Even though seems to be harsh, Surabaya people is democratic, tolerant, and kindly help others. In artistic dance, Surabaya people love attractive, dynamic, and humorous gestures. A slow-gestured dance is less appreciated in Surabaya.
